Private Sommelier

Imagine hosting a dinner party and not having to think about what wine to serve, if it's good enough, where to get it, if it's at the right temperature, whether to decant it or not and for how long, if a wine is flawed, what stemware to use, are there enough stems, when to serve what wine, how to pour it, why you paired it with your food, where your guests can find more of it, and any number of questions your guests might have about the wine itself.

Let Lemon Rock answer all of these questions for you and service your beverage experience.
